

We belong to an American Baptist church organization that started missionary work in Nihonbashi in 1948. The Baptist tradition is a historic Protestant denomination that separated from the Church of England in the 18th century. Our church is also a member of the Japan Evangelical Association.

In 1989, we established this church. At first, we held worship services in rented spaces near Futako-Tamagawa Station, including local community centers and classrooms at St. Mary's International School. In 2003, we moved to our current location, where we built a church building and now hold weekly worship services.

Futako-Tamagawa is a very international town where many people from different countries live. In Setagaya Ward, about 3.5% of the residents are foreign nationals, but in Futako-Tamagawa, even more people from different cultures call this place home.

At Tamagawa Christian Church, we support an international church in Tagajo, Miyagi Prefecture, and send missionaries to Bhaktapur City in Nepal to help establish churches. Here in Futako-Tamagawa, we aim to promote intercultural harmony by helping people learn Japanese and supporting those who are looking for a new community in Japan.

We offer English weekly bulletins, worship messages in both Japanese and English, and English Bible classes. Please feel free to visit us—it's easy to join us, even if it's your first time!

Let's build new connections in our community and share wonderful moments together!

Welcome to Tamagawa Christian Church

“Every journey in life faces its share of storms.”

These are the inspiring words of Umeko Tsuda, a pioneer in women’s education whose courageous life continues to motivate so many today. At Tamagawa Christian Church, we welcome people from all walks of life. Some come seeking solutions to their struggles or pursuing happiness. Others desire to live a life with purpose and integrity. And there are those who, like Umeko Tsuda, are driven by a passionate vision to bring positive change to society.

For 34 years as a pastor, I have met countless individuals, sharing with them the rich perspective and hope found in the words of the Bible. No matter what storms you may face, let us learn together how to rise above them—finding strength to live a healthy, meaningful life. At Tamagawa Christian Church, we are here to walk with you as you take your next step forward. (Pastor Makoto Fukui)
